Personal Profile

Hello, I'm Misha! I am proficient in web development. I used eloquentjavascript.net to teach myself fundamentals of web technologies - creating markup, manipulating DOM, and building web apps using modern JavaScript. After working on more than 10 projects using vanilla JavaScript, I learned how to use React to build more ambitious and scalable web applications. As I am pursuing a full-stack web developer career I challenged myself and I have been coding non-stop since this summer, as a result, I have improved my skills in back-end technologies like Node.js, databases, data structures and algorithms as well.
